Sunset Canyon is the kind of place people move to for a breath of Hill Country air and never want to leave. Set on just under an acre and a half, this property captures that blend of space, calm, and connection that defines Dripping Springs living. The home sits toward the middle of the lot, surrounded by trees, with light restrictions that let you make it truly your own. The front porch stretches wide and welcoming, while a balcony upstairs promises front-row seats to the best show in town; those fiery Hill Country sunsets. Stone siding and a side-entry three-car garage give the home a timeless feel that fits perfectly into the landscape. Inside, sunlight filters through generous windows, filling every corner with warmth. The main living area features wood flooring, a fireplace, and an easy flow into the kitchen and breakfast nook. The kitchen itself delivers with custom cabinetry, granite countertops, tile backsplash, and stainless appliances, all designed for everyday use and weekend gatherings alike. At the front of the home, a formal dining room adds that touch of tradition you'll appreciate during the holidays. The primary suite on the main floor is tucked away with two closets and an ensuite bath; separate vanities, a jetted tub, and a walk-in shower. The main-floor office makes working from home feel effortless. Upstairs, the game room keeps things social with a wet bar and easy access to the balcony. Three guest bedrooms round out the second level, each with plenty of space and light. Step outside and it just gets better. The backyard was built for relaxing and entertaining; a resort-style pool with a waterfall, a cabana with a built-in grilling area, and open space framed by mature trees. It's where every evening feels like a getaway. Zoned for Dripping Springs ISD, with a low tax rate and just minutes from local wineries, breweries, and everything you love about Hill Country life, this is the kind of home that makes you want to slow down and stay awhile.
