2502 Barhill Drive | Barton Hills
Zen-Inspired Architecture Across from Barton
Hills Elementary

Live at the center of Barton Hills in a newly built five-bedroom home that balances striking modern design with peaceful livability. Just across from top-rated Barton Hills Elementary and moments from the Barton Creek Greenbelt, Zilker Park, and South Lamar, 2502 Barhill Drive puts you in one of Austin's most desirable pockets.

Designed by Joseph Design Build, the 3,955-square-foot residence is anchored by a central Zen atrium that brings natural light and calm into the heart of the home. Floor-to-ceiling glass, clean lines, and an open layout create seamless transitions between indoor and outdoor spaces. A sculptural exterior staircase links the lower-level patio with a covered upper terrace—offering a dynamic setup for entertaining or everyday life.

The main level features a private primary wing with direct access to the patio and pool, creating a quiet retreat away from the main living areas. Upstairs, additional bedrooms, a covered deck with treetop views, and flexible living spaces allow room for work, play, or guests. Outside, the pool and patios are surrounded by mature trees and generous yard space—ideal for gatherings or quiet afternoons.

This is a home that pairs architectural impact with function and ease. From its location in the heart of South Austin to its thoughtful layout and standout design, 2502 Barhill Drive is a rare opportunity in a highly coveted neighborhood.
